NOT FEAR BUT LOGIC

Millions of Americans still believe there is an easy way out of the national difficulties. Some fancy something like the Townsend plan. Others think everything would straighten out if the government printed more money. Maybe sharing the wealth would make everything all right. There are as many schemes as there are schemers. Inevitably, some of them attract large followings.

Not all the plans originate with the Upton Sinclair and the Dr. Townsends. The Roosevelt administration, obviously, has the biggest plan of all. It is so big, in fact, that intensive study is necessary before its scope can be comprehended. With all its merits and faults, it is merely another easy way out of the depression, albeit the official one.

An essential part of the plan is its assumption that complete cooperation will dissolve difficulties. A moment's thought shows how important cooperation has been from the new deal's beginning. One recalls how, at one time, the administration claimed its whole recovery program was being held up because of the banks' failure to lend money. Supposedly, this was a fault in cooperation. Bankers were criticized sharply.

A little investigation was enough to prove bankers weren't at fault. They were anxious to lend money, but there were no borrowers. There was no failure of cooperation, but merely nothing on which to cooperate. Another easy way out of difficulty had turned out to be a blind alley.

More recently, industry and business have been accused of unreasonable timidity in making commitments. Administration spokesmen have tried to ridicule and bully them into ceasing to be afraid. They were advised to spend money, to expand their facilities and inventories, thereby creating purchasing power which would end the depression.

In other words, it has been assumed that business fear is blocking recovery. Timidity is retarding the cooperation necessary to make the recovery program successful. It is charged.

But is it really fear which keeps industry and business from building more plant capacity and tying up money in inventories? Some industrialists and merchants are beginning to take offense at the inference. They explain there is no logical reason why they should increase their production capacity and inventories for a demand which doesn't exist. They point out there is a distinction between courage and foolhardiness. Like the bankers, they can prove that the absence of cooperation is due solely to the fact there isn't anything on which they can cooperate. One more attempt to find an easy way out of the depression is in the process of being frustrated, not by fear but by logic.

HOSTILITIES OPEN

President Roosevelt has had two choices of ways to deal with Sen. Long ever since the senator began to attack him. One was to let the Louisiana political boss do the talking and wait for his eventual dissolution as a political force. The other was to fight back, hoping to destroy him by active rather than passive opposition.

Up to the present, President Roosevelt has played a waiting game. Apparently, he is changing his tactics. There are signs the administration is going to fight Sen. Long with the deadliest weapon it possesses, distribution of federal relief funds. Other weapons may be brought into play later.

Relief Administrator Hopkins has assumed control of unemployment aid in Louisiana. This move is similar to the one which displaced Gov. Davey as the nominal head of the relief system in Ohio. The motive in both cases is to deprive the state political machine of the nourishment it can derive from distributing large sums of money among voters.

Secretary of Interior Ickes has threatened to rescind Louisiana's public works allotments. This move is designed to check Sen. Long's proposal for a state board to direct expenditure of all federal money loaned or granted to municipalities for construction projects. "No PWA money is going to be used to build up any share-the-wealth political plan," Mr. Ickes thunders. "I don't think Sen. Long and his 'longitude' are going to dictate to us how we'll run our program in Louisiana."

Unfortunately, Sen. Long will be able to turn the administration's new policy of opposition to good account. In his own state, the tactics adopted by Washington to chastise him will enable him to play the martyr role. Eventually, perhaps, he will be embarrassed by a scarcity of money to keep his followers contented, but Sen. Long has been an amazingly difficult fellow to embarrass in the past. It is doubtful if the Roosevelt administration can gain any advantage by fighting back, but it also was doubtful it could gain any advantage by waiting for the kingfish to get tangled in his own net. He is mad news for President Roosevelt, whichever way he is taken.

THE STARS SAY

For Friday, April 19.

Although there is a decided augury of upheaval and change on this day, according to the lunar directions, this abrupt and unforeseen upset in the affairs will be for the benign purpose of bettering the position of interests and should eventuate in some unexpected success. New projects of importance may be launched and with the friendly aid and encouragement of influential personages. It is a time for pushing for such high goals.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of much progress and profitable achievement, which may involve a decided disruption of current interests, associations and engagements. Unforeseen change in connection with advancing new plans and projects also may be involved.

A child born on this day may be talented, efficient, adventurous and ambitious.

O. O. McINTYRE
NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, April 18—Chilliothe, O., is for some reason one of the favorite out-yonder towns for playwrights and authors. Pelham G. Woodhouse stressed it as a locale in a recent Jeeves story. Fanny Kilbourne, Zona Gale and Fannie Hurst have mentioned it in short stories.

For many years at least one show a season used the town for, alas, a laugh. In Ina Claire's story of her life in "The Gold Diggers" she was born in Chilliothe and moved to Columbus. And there was the young man from Chilliothe in "The Butler and Egg Man" who took over smart Broadway boys.

Clyde Beatty, animal trainer, who came from near there, glorified the town in a movie. George C. Tyler, a native, paid tribute to it in several of his productions. Kenyon Nicholson's drama of Pomeroy bend had a character say: "This berg is about as gay as Chilliothe."

Victor Moore and Emma Littlefield in their long ago vaudeville act spoke of being stranded in Chilliothe. And there was a reference in the old Melville and Higgins skit. It's not such a hick town. Just a funny sounding name. O. yes, Gallipoli, O., was mentioned in Gene Walter's "The Easiest Way."

Greenwich Village has gone all of a sudden Spanish. At least a dozen Spanish and Mexican restaurants have been recently added to the old reliable El Chico and El Gaucho, there for years. One of the newest, El Cantino, is sponsored by the South American journalist, Armando Zegri. He maintains his newspaper connections but likes to have plenty of room for his friends to sit around and talk in. Wandering Spanish minstrels drop by with guitars and songs. Escudero, Gypsy dancer, is a frequent guest. Also Covarrubias, the Vanity Fair cartoonist. And now and then a retired matador.

Page a master of ceremony. Baltimore's most distinguished literary gentleman, the elder H. L. Mencken, and the younger Ogden Nash have never met.

The manager of a very smart Fifth avenue photographic studio recently opened an equally smart studio of her own in Radio City. She invited a number of top-drawer people she had often photographed to come for sittings. She thought it would be especially nice to have some poses of Beatrice Lilly in a smothery ermine coat. So she borrowed a $3,000 wrap from a leading furrier. Miss Lilly liked the pictures very, very much and the coat very much. Indeed, she bought the coat but no pictures.

Peter Arno's doughty and brazenly over-dressed clubman with the walrus mustache, thick juts of eyebrows, gates-ajar collar and hearty garumph seems a bit far fetched as a type. Yet he did exist in real life. Those who remember the late Laurence D'Oraay, actor, have seen him. Arno, as a young orchestra leader spang out of Yale, glimpsed him one day walking the avenue and never forgot. Incidentally, the Arno drawing: one sees in print are rarely the originals. The first drafts are almost invariably hilariously ribald and are tempered with a few refining strokes before being offered to even the sophisticated Arno fans.

Not many readers can imagine F. Scott Fitzgerald as anything but joyously soporific. The leaping generation he authored, however, has attained a cautious and sedate maturity. And so has Fitzgerald, now tinged faintly gray. He is among the handful of successful writers the world rarely sees, as cloistered indeed as James M. Barrie. The smart cocktail bars, the night clubs and first nights he studiously ignores when in New York. He likes a few cronies, good books, pipe and long fireside chats. One of his dearest friends was Ring Lardner.

Blaming Child's Arches On Growth Is Mistake

CHILDREN OFTEN complain of pain in the legs, thighs and arms. Unfortunately these symptoms are frequently overlooked or are thought to be due to rapid growth. Of course, the old-fashioned belief that there are "growing pains" is erroneous and is an idea that should be discarded.

Some children grow quickly, developing more rapidly than the average. If the rapidly growing child complains of pain, that symptom must never be looked upon as an evidence of "growing pains," but should be regarded as a possible sign of some inflammation or infection. Usually it can be traced to acute inflammatory rheumatism, inflammation of bone or muscle, or some other form of infection.

Neglect of the symptom may prove a serious menace to the health of the young child. For example, a child with acute rheumatic fever may complain of pain in the legs or arms. If overlooked or attributed to growing pains, the child may become very ill, or become permanently disabled by heart complications. If the disease is quickly recognized and adequate medical measures are taken, serious complications can be prevented.

Not Due to Growth
A recent statistical review of children afflicted with rheumatic heart disease clearly shows how dangerous it is to believe muscular aches and pains are due to "growing pains." In this study most of the children had at some time or other complained of pain. In all of the cases the pain was believed to be due to rapid growth and medical attention was not given.

If a child complains of "growing pains," or any other pain, it is imperative to seek medical advice. As I have implied, the pain may be due to rheumatism, or it may be traced to some center of infection, such as diseased teeth, tonsils, nasal sinuses or adenoids. But the truth can be found only by complete physical examination. Whenever necessary, X-ray examinations should be made.

Enlarged and diseased tonsils are a constant menace and a frequent cause of muscular pain. The toxins or poisons caused by the infection are absorbed and carried by the blood stream to every part of the body. Somewhere they may set up inflammation, with more or less pain.

Often Confused
In some instances the germs reaching the circulation are deposited in some vital organ of the body, such as the heart, lungs, kidneys or bones. They may cause infection of a bone, producing "osteomyelitis," the big name given to inflammation of the bone. Osteomyelitis is often confused with growing pains, because in the latter disorder the young sufferer may complain of pain in the leg or arm. This confusion would not exist if everyone realized the truth about "growing pains." It is a pity that so many parents regard the symptom as unimportant when really it may indicate some serious disorder. A great deal of unnecessary suffering and complications would be avoided if prompt medical attention were given to the pains and aches of our youngsters.

Answers to Health Queries

T. I. P. Q.—What should a boy of 17, 5 feet 8 inches tall weigh, also a boy of 17, 5 feet 7 inches tall?

A.—They should weigh respectively about 140 and 135 pounds. This is about the average weight for people of this age and height as determined by examination of a large number of persons. A few pounds above or below the average is a matter of little or no significance.

Mrs. M. G. A. Q.—What can be done for perspiring feet? What causes this disturbance? My 16-year old son is afflicted with this annoyance.

A.—For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question. Nervousness is apt to be a factor in many instances.

Balanced Diet

To be healthy your child should have the following foods every day: Milk, at least a pint; butter, at every meal; cereal, bread or potato at every meal. At least two vegetables besides potato, raw or leafy kinds often; raw fruit or tomatoes once or twice a day; egg or meat; or both for older children; sweets in small amounts at the end of the meal. This is a balanced diet sanctioned by U. S. Bureau of Home Economics.

Prospective Mothers

WOMEN who suffer every month — who may have weakening drains, side-ache or headache, and those about to become mothers, will find Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription just the tonic they need. Read what Mrs. Canton, Ohio, said: "When I suffered agony from pain periodically I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription only a short time when all this misery disappeared, and never returned. When I was an expectant mother and became very weak, with dull headaches, the 'Prescription' proved to be one of my best friends. It soon had the feeling like myself again."

CONSTIPATED PEOPLE FIND
SPEEDY RELIEF BY ADDING
TASTY NEW BREAD TO DIET

Salem Family Is a Local Example of the Beneficial Use of the New Honey Krushed Wheat Bread When Added to Meals

It took real baking achievement to produce a tasty, appetizing bread that contained Nature's own curative qualities for constipation. A local housewife writes of the experiences of herself and family.

"I wish to state that I am personally eating the new Honey Krushed Wheat Bread and find it does everything claimed for it. The honey contained therein has a stimulating non-drug action, while crushed wheat provides roughage. I am glad to give my endorsement to this product and wish to recommend it to everyone for its health giving qualities."

In addition to a remarkable bread, with whole crushed wheat as the foundation, the mixture of pure honey instead of sugar and the secret process, gives it a more appetizing flavor than ordinary bread. It comes in an individual cellophane wrapper, easily identified. It is perfectly sliced and makes grand toast.

When Salem sits down to its dinner this evening, more families will serve Honey Krushed Wheat Bread than any other. Mothers everywhere believe it is best for children. It helps build strong, healthy bodies. But more than that, for older members of the family, for those who have been troubled with constipation—it is a god-send.

Wherever Honey Krushed Wheat Bread has been served regularly, even for so short a period as ten days, consumers report that poor functioning of the bowels has been greatly relieved and in many cases entirely eliminated. It not only is tender and delicious, pleasing in appearance and appetizing of flavor, but its actual curative benefits are many.

Lembright's Bakery secured the remarkable formula after much search and have made identification easy by introducing this original loaf wrapped in cellophane. Look for the extra coating of crushed wheat on the crust.

Whenever you buy Honey Krushed Wheat Bread you are sure it has been delivered to your doorstep every day. There is no chance of getting a stale loaf. And this wonderful loaf is packed with the goodness and roughage required for healthy digestion.

GLAND EXTRACT ADDS PRECOCITY

Tried On Rats, It Makes Them Grow Up In Half Time

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
PHILADELPHIA, April 18.—Full verification of existence of a precocity extract, one of the most unbelievable discoveries of science, was reported today to the American Philosophical society.

The extract comes from the thymus glands of calves. It causes young rats to grow up, physically and mentally, in half normal time without shortening their adult lives, which began so much sooner.

The extract is ready to be tried out to learn what human uses it possesses. There is no expectation, said Leonard G. Rowntree, M. D., of Philadelphia, who reported it, of the thymus extract doing to humans the things predicted on the basis of its action on rats.

These predictions include babies growing into good prize fighters at six, college graduates at 12 and the making of a "dictator's elixir," by which boys could be grown into full-size fighting men in half-time.

The thymus gland effects were first reported a year ago as something "almost beyond belief." The first was based on five generations of rats injected daily with the thymus extract. These generations were the equivalent of 100 years in human terms.

Today's report verifies the previous finding on another five generations of rats.

This second set repeated everything, the young born heavier, getting teeth their first day, opening their eyes the third day instead of the 16th day, their fur grown, themselves weaned and self-supporting as rats in the third and fourth days of their lives.

No Giants Developed

But no giants developed. The young rats simply matured in about half-time. Their "control" cousins, with no thymus extract, eventually caught up to them in all respects.

Virtually all this effect came indirectly. It was due not to thymus extract given to young rats but to the extract given to their parents. The effect was cumulative. The unbelievably fast development came after the second or third generations.

Stopping it even for one generation lost these effects almost completely. In five generations the precocity did not become hereditary.

The work was done by J. H.

Clark, M. D. of Philadelphia; A. M. Hanson, M. D. of Fairbault, Minn., and Arthur Steinberg, of Philadelphia in cooperation with Dr. Rowntree.

ECHO CHRIST'S FAMOUS WORDS

Crucifixion, "I Thirst!" "Sounded By Pilgrims As Relief
Of Sorrow Is Shown

(By Associated Press)

ROME, April 18.—Christ's crucifixion moan "I Thirst!" was echoed today in the hearts of thousands of devout Romans and pilgrims who saw part of the sponge said to have been lifted to the Savior's lips as he died.

The relic was displayed at St. John Lateran Basilica as part of Rome's religious celebration of Holy Thursday. The pilgrims from far and near also venerated at St. John Lateran a table believed to have been used at the Lord's Last Supper.

At St. Peter's they saw two skulls reputed to be those of St. Peter and St. Paul and a portion of the pillar on which it is believed Christ was scourged.

Pope Pius entered the annual mourning period with a prayer of gratitude on his lips. He felt justified in declaring the war clouds recently hovering over Europe have been at least temporarily dispelled.

Tourists in Rome today who were lucky enough to be within the Basilica and churches heard the "Gloria in Excelsis," a tremendous paean of choral religious ecstasy. Those on the street could not fail to hear the throaty boom of St. Peter's biggest bell leading a symphony of lesser bells in Rome's 400 churches.

Then silence descended. In the churches swelling organ music was suddenly stilled. At that moment hundreds of thousands of Romans

Stone Sheriff's Car

COLUMBUS, April 18.—After a cattle truck from Asheville, Pick-away county, had been pelted with sticks and stones by strike pickets when it entered the Columbus Packing Co. plant last night, it was given the escort of a sheriff's car. Then the sheriff's machine was stoned, too.

A Review of the Day's News

By Arthur Brisbane

AN ENGLISHMAN would be puzzled reading in American newspapers "Gomez twirls as Yanks and Red Sox open."

That is part of American English, applied to baseball, and means that a player named Gomez, pitched or threw the ball in the first game of the season between baseball teams called "Red Sox" and "Yankees."

Other baseball language that would puzzle our British friends include such expressions as "lay it down the line," "put it over," "slam it," "in the groove," "over the pan," "fan em," "clout it," "rock it," "right on the nose," "do a Casey," "two and three," "walk him," etc.

However, the same British that change Route du Roi meaning "Road of the king," into "Rotten Row," and change the battleship name "Bellerophon" to "the Bully Ruffian," in British sailor language, can hardly criticize our innocent baseball lingo.

Secretary Ickes, unlike some senators that treat softly in around Huey Long of Louisiana, goes straight at that aggressive "Kingfish," calls him "Emperor of Louisiana," says he, Secretary Ickes, is not paying out government funds "to set up a political machine anywhere. They won't be used that way in Louisiana and they certainly won't be used to build up Sen. Long's political machine."

If Sen. Long insists on making Louisiana "a one man state," he won't get any government money from Mr. Ickes.

You remember, in the book of Job, how the Lord, "out of the whirlwind," questions Job concerning many things, including Leviathan asking: "Will he make many supplications unto thee? Will he speak soft words to thee?"

Sen. Long, the Louisiana Leviathan, far from speaking soft words unto Mr. Ickes, replies in words repeated here with becoming hesitation:

"Secretary Ickes can go slambang to hell."

On calm reflection he added, "tell

Woman Legislator From Akron Voted "Mother" of Ohio's Representatives

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, April 18.—Mrs. Blanche L. Hower, white-haired, grizzled legislator from Akron, has the task of "mothering" 131 sons and two daughters—all members of the house of representatives.

By a viva voce vote she was unanimously elected "mother" of the house last night as her first job promised to lead her "boys and girls" at a dinner next Tuesday evening.

Rep. H. T. Phillips (R. Athens), old enough to be the father of many members of the house, sponsored a resolution to name Mrs. Hower to the job of "mother."

Reputedly wealthy and bearing that fellow I'll blast his ears back." Cryptically, Sen. Long added, "there is one sovereign state left in America, (Louisiana, of course), 'run by the people, who don't give a damn about the combination between Stalin and the Nourmahal.'"

Can you interpret that? Nourmahal is Vincent Astor's big yacht, but why drag in "Stalin?"

P. S. "Cryptically" means "secretly, in an occult way. Voltaire said, definitions are terms.

New York wily, but with unnecessary pretensions of high morality, passes a bill forbidding so-called "nudism," the silly habit of going naked. One statesman offered a rather feeble argument, "You can go way back to Adam and Eve, even they wore fig leaves."

The nudist might reply, "They wore no fig leaves while they behaved. And we intend to behave ourselves."

Another statesman defended nudism, saying: "If these people want to gambol in the woods let them. As long as they don't come out in the open why should we bother them?"

We should "bother them" because it has taken the human race a million years to learn how to wear clothes and get rid of hair that once covered us and behave, a little.

A frequent sign of insanity is "stripping of clothing."

Nudism, "gamboling in the woods," is silly and, in the open it is an insult to other human beings.

After spending more than a million years getting rid of hair that her three score and 10 years, Mrs. Hower immediately accepted the honor and appointed the party floor leaders, Frank Uble (D. Cuyahoga) and Myron B. Gessaman (R. Franklin) as "shepherds" to "bring the boys and girls into the fold at my party next Tuesday night."

Rep. William Boyd (D. Cuyahoga) wanted to know if "mother" would spank her boys if necessary. Mrs. Hower made no promises, but Representative Phillips declared "I suspect it might do some good."

Mrs. Hower, author of a bill to ban "heart balm" suits, was applauded loudly by Rep. Metcalf (R. Franklin), a bachelor.

COURT GRANTS $18,000 AWARD

Melvin C. Holland of Youngstown Given Judgment Against His Employers

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., April 18.—Melvin C. Holland of Youngstown is entitled to $18,000 damages for injuries suffered when a dynamite cap exploded, the Ohio supreme court held yesterday.

The court upheld a judgment for that amount against the Standard Accident Insurance company, which insured the Hawkins-Downie company, contractors by whom Holland was employed. The company had placed the dynamite cap on a city dump.

Other decisions of the court: Upheld an award of $442 to Charles C. Hoffman against the Sandusky Packing company, which he alleged purchased 38 lambs stolen from him.

Held the Stark county courts must hear again the case of George Kell against the Ohio Power company. He charged he was injured when the company turned on power while he was painting lightning arresters on a wire tower. A court of appeals had reversed a judgment of $50,000 favoring Kell and remanded the case for a new trial.

HOUSE LEADERS PLAN ACTION

Slowness of Senate May Keep Congress In Session Till August

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The house today rejected two major attempts to modify the administration's social security bill, one the Townsend old age pension plan and the other the Greenway proposal to increase from $15 to $20 a month the proposed federal contribution to old age pensions.

In this first test of administration strength to prevent rewriting of its social security program, the Townsend plan lost on a 206 to 56 standing vote, and the Greenway amendment, 163 to 87.

Only 20 minutes of debate preceded the ballot. Included was an exchange between Representative McGroarty (D. Calif.), who introduced the Townsend bill, and Representative O'Connor (D. N. Y.).

McGroarty struck back at O'Connor's remarks that some members were "playing politics with human misery."

"I don't think even the Republicans would do that," the Californian said.

"Remember that 30,000,000 people want this Townsend bill. Don't tell me that this security bill before the house means anything. It means nothing—absolutely nothing."

some "necessary" relaxation of the anti-trust laws, without allowing the "abuses" they were designed to prevent.

As the general proceeded with his rading he became increasingly emphatic. Repeatedly he popped his hand upon the witness table.

He screwed about on his chair until at one time he actually had one shoulder braced against the table while his voice poured out denials of "the big shots of industry" for opposing codes he said were meant to help "the little fellow," just at the "grand and glorious doctrine of laissez faire."

"Vast Balance of Good"

"Price fixing under NRA," he said scornfully, "is just a big bugaboo." He contended that only nine codes had any price fixing provisions and four of them had never been put into effect.

On the whole, Johnson said emphatically, NRA has "brought a vast balance of good." He contended it had helped the little man, by preventing his destruction, and helped labor. He conceded, however, that the law had not given labor "all the rights intended."

On the controversial subject of production control, Johnson said "if we can't regulate this economic engine the next step will be abolition of the profit system and page Mr. Stalin."

Rowe Finds Red-Hot Job When White Sox Take 7-6 Victory

Zeke Bonura's Bat Paves Way for Chicago Win Over Champion Tigers; Goose Goslin Hits Well For Detroiters

(By Associated Press.)

DETROIT, April 18.—Schoolboy Rowe, accepting a chilly opening day mound assignment, met a red-hot reception as Zeke Bonura led the Chicago White Sox on a wild-hitting spree to set the American league champion Tigers down, 7 to 6, yesterday.

Bonura led the Sox' 10-hit rampage against the Schoolboy with two doubles and a single. Vernon Washington, Indianapolis rookie, making his first appearance in right field for the Chicago team, followed Zeke with two hits, both singles, but they both counted for runs.

Goose Goslin, displaying midseason batting form, almost pulled the Schoolboy out of the hole as he lashed out a single, double and home run to account for five of Detroit's six runs.

Sad Sam Jones, who invariably proves to be a problem to the Tigers, started for the White Sox and yielded but one hit in the first three innings. The chill got into his arm in the fourth, however, and Hank Greenberg nicked him for a single and was brought home standing up by the Goose's blasting double. Detroit tied the score in the sixth at four-all, when Goslin got his homer with two on base.

As Ruth Knocked Mighty Homer

Congratulations! Another homer for Babe!

When Babe Ruth thrilled the opening day crowd at Boston in the game between the Braves and New York Giants by hitting a mighty homer, the crowd went wild and "Strangler" Lewis, former wrestling champ, gave him a terrific hug. The Bambino is shown as he crossed the plate, scoring another ahead of him.

New Schedule, Rules Will Be Drafted At Memorial Hall Meet

Joe Kelley Calls Managers' Meeting for 7:30 P. M.; New Member to Be Named on Arbitration Board

A meeting of managers of the city softball league teams has been called by Joe Kelley for 7:30 tonight in the Memorial building to draft rules and schedules for the coming season. Kelley has requested that all managers be present at the confab.

The meeting will be for managers of the Class A league teams, several of which already have notified Kelley that they will be in the loop again this year. The American Legion, United Cigars, Salem Hardware and Mullins Shops are itching to play.

Besides these nine, others in the league last season were the Salem China, Famous Dairies and the Trade Class. Managers of these squads, as well as new aggregations, should attend the meeting tonight.

A new member will be appointed to the board of arbitration, now composed of Joe Reese and E. H. Taylor. A new member will be named to succeed Earl Beardmore, who resigned.

Church league softball managers will attend a meeting on Friday night at the Memorial building. Rules and a schedule will be drawn up. The date will be set for the opening play, Kelley said today.

Initial play in the "Mickey McGuire" grade school league, comprising six teams, has been postponed one week. Originally the teams were slated to start play this Saturday.

Lou McKenna Like Magician

Ex-Sports Scribe Starts His St. Paul Club Off With Bang

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, April 18.—From the way his St. Paul club has dashed away from the starting gate, Lou McKenna looks like another sports writer with baseball managerial magic.

Like the late William Veck of the Chicago Cubs, Lou was a sports writer until late last year when he covered his typewriter and became the general manager for the re-organized St. Paul club of the American association. He forgot about copy and started a search for baseball players with the result that he lined up a team that had all appearances of a fine club today.

Open With Shutout

With Marty McManus, the old Red Sox star, as field manager, the Saints opened their American association pennant drive Tuesday with a 13 to 0 shutout over their great natural rival, Minneapolis. Yesterday, they came right back with a 13-hit attack that mowed the Millers down again, 10 to 8, at Minneapolis, where they seldom won ball games. The Millers staged a four-run uprising in the ninth inning, but Berly Grimes (not the old Burleigh of major league fame) quelled it. A crowd of 6,500 saw the game.

The "Old Hoss" of the Chicago Cubs, Riggs Stephenson, made his debut auspiciously as Indians' opener the reason at Columbus with a 9 to 7 victory before only 2,992 paid customers. The "Old Hoss" got two of the 11 Indian hits and scored twice. Mickey Heath, Columbus captain for the past two seasons, was the hitting hero of the game, leading the Indians with three hits. Phil Callahan pitched the route for Indianapolis, allowing eight hits.

Completely outshining their rivals with 17 hits, the Louisville Colonels made it two in a row over Toledo, 5 to 4, in an 11-inning game. Rosen and Brack each got four hits out of six for Louisville while Mike Powers hit a homer with one on in the third for Toledo.

Milwaukee and Kansas City were rained out.

Opening day attendance was somewhat disappointing, reaching only 23,600, but cold weather was blamed in most instances.

Fistic Splendor Is Lined Up For New York Fans

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, April 18.—The live-liest promotional war since Tex Rickard's heyday promises to restore New York to its former proud position as fistic capital of the world.

As a result of the feverish rivalry between Madison Square Garden and Mike Jacobs' 29th Century club, Metropolitan followers of the cauliflower brigade can put their cash on the line, if it holds out—that long, for these four prime attractions:

May 10—Tony Canzoneri vs. Lou Ambrosi, at the Garden, for New York State Athletic commission recognition as world's lightweight champion, succeeding Barney Ross, resigned.

May 28—Ross vs. Jimmy McLarnin for the world's welterweight championship, at the Polo grounds with Jacobs promoting.

June 13—Max Baer vs. Jimmy Braddock for the heavyweight championship, at the Garden's Long Island bowl.

June 25—Joe Louis, Detroit, Negro heavyweight, vs. Primo Carnera, at the Yankee stadium, Jacobs in charge.

Although Jimmy Johnston and his Garden associates have the offerings with the Twentieth Century club, the financial advantage apparently lies entirely with Jacobs.

Accurate prognosticators of the gate receipts estimate the third meeting between Ross and McLarnin will draw nearly $300,000, and that the Louis-Carnera bout, the slugging Negro's eastern debut, may attract nearly $500,000.

Girls at Lieben High school are enthused over the new in-door tennis class inaugurated by Alice Armstrong, physical education teacher for the girls.

Black Threat

SINCE old Har' Willis was knocked off his "black mince" perch by Jack Sharkey, there have been no dark clouds on the heavy-weight horizon; but now a legitimate successor to "Field and Hit Harry" has come into view in the person of young Joe Louis, the brown bomber who is the newest sensation among the big boys.

Louis doesn't resemble Willis in his fighting style, however, for he doesn't hold and he certainly can hit. Described as a cool, graceful boxer with a terrific kick in either mitt, it begins to look as if the youthful Negro puncher will make pugilistic history before he hangs up his leather mittens for the last time.

Quaker Golfers To Have Trials

Salem High school's would-be Bobby Jones, will be given tryouts at 4 p. m. Friday after school when the school players invade the greens of the Salem Golf club on the Lebanon rd.

Principal Wilbur Springer has called the initial elimination call and will accompany the boys tomorrow.

The Salem High golf schedule this season includes:

Youngstown Rayen, here, May 27, and there on April 24 (tentative); Warren, here, May 31, and there on May 18. No dates have been set yet for matches with Youngstown East and South nor Alliance.

Wooster Golfers Win

GRANVILLE, April 18.—Wooster's golfers defeated Denison, 13 to 14, here Wednesday. For Wooster Mathias had 7, Carpenter 8, Schultz 8 and Bishop 9; for Denison, Frederickson 8, Brady 8, Denning 8, Bigger 9.

Dayton U. Baseball Team Beats Miami

DAYTON, April 18.—The University of Dayton yesterday slapped an 8 to 1 defeat on Miami university's baseball nine, in the opening game of the collegiate season. Corbett, Dayton hurler, allowed only three hits and struck out 13. Grine and Alexander, Indian hurlers, were "found" for 13 hits.

Ousted Rowing Veterans May Regain Seats In Shell of California U.

(By Associated Press.)

BERKELEY, Calif., April 18.—Defeat by two-fifths of a second may result in ousted veterans regaining their seats in the University of California shell which will defend the intercollegiate rowing championship at Poughkeepsie June 18.

When the University of Washington's eight-oared craft nosed out California's entry April 13 in the regatta which annually determines far western rowing supremacy, Coach Ky Ebricht told his Golden Bear varsity and junior varsity men:

"Jobs in the first string boat are wide open again."

The regatta on Oakland estuary was a "clean sweep" for Washington, the huskies winning freshman, jayvee and varsity races, but the Bear varsity rowers were not disgraced. Washington won the big 3-mile race in 16 minutes, 12 seconds with California less than six feet behind after leading until the last 100 yards.

California thus moves on to Poughkeepsie in the same position it occupied a year ago. Washington defeated California on the Pacific coast, but in the 4-mile pull on the Hudson river it was the California shell that led its keen rival across the finish line.

None of the Californians who helped win the national title last year was lost to 1935 competition, but in the fierce scramble for places during the intervening practice season, seven of the 1934 varsity oar-pullers were unseated by inexperienced candidates.

Basketball Duel On Roller Skates

Liberty Parks Wallop Cortland, 24-3, In Unique Style

A new invocation was given a tryout at Liberty park skating rink at Washingtonville the other night and a basketball game on roller skates was staged.

The Liberty Parks and Cortland players strapped on the skates and then jumped at the task of passing the ball without stops—or should we say—an extra slide. Well, any way, the Liberty Parks beat Cortland, 24 to 3. Cortland rolled all over the floor to hit the hoop for 12 points.

(By Associated Press.)

BOSTON, April 18.—Weighing three more pounds than last year, when he finished a close second to Dave Komonen in the Boston marathon, 27-year-old Johnny Kelley of Arlington, is an outstanding favorite in Friday's 26-mile, 385 yards grind from Hapington to the B. A. A. clubhouse.

Komonen, who will wear No. 1, will compete against five other former winners, Leslie Paswon, maker of the course's 2:31:01-3-5 record; Clarence Demar, the Keene, N. H. veteran, who has won seven of these distance classics; old Bill Kennedy, Jimmy Henigan, and the always dangerous Paul DeBruyn.

COLD FAILS TO DAMAGE CROPS

May Have Been Blessing In Disguise, Experts Declare

(By Associated Press)
Ohio fruit growers surveyed their orchards today and many believed that the record low April temperatures may have been a blessing in disguise.

Leon Havis, assistant horticulturist at the Ohio State university experimental farm at Wooster, said that peaches had not suffered "enough to affect the crop."
The cold wave, he said, apparently thinned out the buds and should result in healthier growth.
"Our farm shows that about 33 per cent of the sweet cherries were killed," Havis reported. "This will not materially reduce the commercial crop."
Japanese plums were stricken, he said, but American plums—the staple of the Ohio plum crop—were uninjured.

"Southern Ohio fruit, which was further along, may have suffered more from the cold," he said, "but if temperatures there did not go below 25 degrees, the damage will be proportionately slight."
Growers reported today that the Ottawa county peach crop, one of the largest in the state, was not seriously damaged. Farmers in Erie county said their pears and peaches escaped "probably because of the cloudy skies."
The Cleveland Weather Bureau recorded the night's lowest temperature at 32 degrees early today. The forecast for the ensuing 24 hours was "not so cold, a minimum temperature of 38 degrees tonight, slightly warmer tomorrow—with moderate to fresh northerly winds."

Ben Eastman May Run In "Special" At Penn Relays

PHILADELPHIA, April 18.—Ben Eastman, holder of the quarter-mile and half mile world's records, has been extended an invitation to compete in a special race at the Penn Relay Carnival, April 26 and 27.

Eastman, according to H. Jamison Swartz, director of the two-day meet, will appear in either a quarter or a half-mile event if he can get away from his business duties in San Francisco.

Opponents for the former Stanford ace will not be selected. Swartz said, until he gives definite assurance of his appearance.

Cunningham, Too
Should the half-mile distance be decided upon, the possible starters would probably include Charles Hornbostel, former Indiana star; Ivan Fuqua, Glenn Cunningham, premier miler and capable of doing under 1 minute 52 seconds in the half-mile, and Elton Brown, of the Kansas City A. C.

If the quarter-mile distance is run, possibilities would include Glenn Hardin, Louisiana State's brilliant quarter-miler and hurdler, and Fuqua, and a number of others who have negotiated the quarter in close to 47 seconds.

Eastman, now competing for the Olympic club of San Francisco, has not appeared here since 1931, when he represented Stanford in the intercollegiate.

Okay Racing Dates

COLUMBUS, April 18.—Racing dates for the Dayton Jockey club beginning June 8 and running 19 days and for the Bainbridge tracks, starting May 30 for 33 days, were approved by the Ohio Racing commission.

Durante, Butterworth Head Cast In "Student Tour", Now At State

SPARKLING with comedy and melody, "Student Tour", is at the State theater today. Jimmy Durante and Charles Butterworth have the comedy leads in this musical picture, and the romantic story is in the hands of Maxine Doyle and Phil Regan, the Irish cop, whose grand tenor voice made him a radio star.

Good Songs
The picture fairly scintillates with the spirit of youth. It deals with the adventures of a group of students of an American college who embark on a world cruise. Some of the song hits include numbers by Brown and Freed. One of them, the "Carole", a new dance rhythm, is sung while the students dance the ballroom steps. Others are "From Now On" and "A New Moon Is Over My Shoulder".

Friday's Feature
LAUGHS are in store in large quantities for those who attend the State theater Friday and Saturday for the new comedy, "McFadden's Flats", is scheduled. The cast includes Walter C. Kelly (the Virginia judge) Andy Clyde, George Barbier, Richard Cromwell, Jane Darwell, Dorothy Furness and Howard Wilson.

A human, down-to-earth and robustly humorous story of a self-made Irishman and a Scotchman who were the best of enemies is told in this picture. Clyde is cast as the Scotchman and a friendly enemy of Kelly, who has risen from hed car-rer to the builder of the grand new McFadden tenements.

When McFadden's project is faced with ruin, Clyde comes to his aid secretly. But Clyde and his unconscious beneficiary still carry on the old feud although their youngsters, Cromwell and Miss Furness, are romantically inclined about each other. Under the illusion that he is wealthy, Kelly sends his daughter off to finishing school to acquire the manners of a lady. When the girl returns completely changed it seems as though the romance is broken and there will be a breach between the families. But all turns out well with the two ancient enemies united and happy in the engagement of their offspring.
